one.

{ Do you know once
means 11 in Spanish? }

Cultural competency is good medicine

Language and cultural barriers can mean the difference between life and death for your patients. Partner with Lumetra and receive expert assistance, tools, and training to improve cultural competency clinical outcomes in your physician practice – at no cost to you.

Participants will learn standards for providing safe, effective, equitable, and patient-centered care to California's increasingly diverse patient population.

Cultural competency makes good business and healthcare sense. Sign up and earn up to 9 CME credits for completing the online training course!
